SHADOW BOXIN' ON THE INFLATION FRONT

MOVING? Please use form inside paper and give full information.
Mailing list is run on Friday for following week.

Now that the Administration has declared war on inflation just about everybody is agreeable, so long as the restrictions apply to somebody else.
The trouble right now is that war has been declared, but the troops and battle plans ain't in place and ain't likely to be for some weeks yet. As a matter of fact, the various watchdogs
in the Government ain't got their stories together yet and anyone who ain't confused by now just ain't been payin'
attention.

Carlin's No. 1 Inflation Fighter
Alfred Kahn is gettin' in hot water with other White House and Administration people with his inclination to pop-off and some of his one liners are particularly irritating to other people involved. There is a steady stream of threats from the Kahn headquarters that either the

Bureaucrats Ignored Own Experts, Warned Protection for Predators, Producers Who Protest Are Facing Entrapment

The federal government spends millions of dollars warning people of the hazards of high blood pressure, then turns right around and spends more of our dollars printing such garbage as the recently-released
"Golden Eagle Management Plan", guaranteed to raise blood pressure at least 50 points.

Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers'
Association president Norman Rous-siet described the plan as "totally inadequate". Rousviet says it's absurd that the Department of the Interior expects sheep and goat producers of Texas to try to protect their livestock in the manner described.

Just what manner is described?
Essentially nothing. The "plan" concentrates almost entirely on increasing eagle numbers. Most of the balance of the paper is given over to outlining ways of increasing law enforcement in eagle country, and only as an afterthought do the Interior staffers address the real problem - that of golden eagle degradation on livestock.

The paper lists six alternatives:
first, do nothing about anything;
second, issue kill permits for depredating eagles; third, provide federal compensation for stock losses;
fourth, provide insurance for stock losses; fifth, continue the existing (non)program and so on. The plan implements a golden eagle management plan. This last item is not then a little strange because the publication it's printed in is supposed to be just such a plan. But never mind.

Only the last two options are actually recommended. The option of issuing kill permits is soundly denounced and was apparently included only as an excuse to do so.
Permits were, by the way,
recommended by Interior's field staff
(the only ones who know anything about eagles) but vetoed by the brass.

TS&GRA's executive secretary,
Bill Sims, says Interior Secretary
Cecil Andrus "just ignored his field
people and did what was politically attractive to him."

As for continuing the existing program, page 11 of the "plan" says
this will include "hazing techniques
such as aircraft, rockets, explosives, recorded distress calls, distress
chemicals and other sight and sound

Stuph & Thangs

President's Guidelines are gonna work, or we face mandatory price and wage controls. Big Labor has already declared that Barry Rosworth's interpretation that fringe benefits and pension money are to be included in the permissible 7% wage hikes will be ignored. As of now th' President's Inflation Fighters are makin' plans to include these benefits out of th' 7% increases, which will enable Big Labor to chalk up gains on actual dollars of as much as 25 to 30% increases, without breakin' the 7% barrier.

It looks like th' Labor Boys have already out-figgared Carter & Co., so far as their end of the deal goes. Now Carter and his Inflation Fighters are gittin' around to Business. Accordin' to th' noise from th' White House Carter aims to impose sanctions on any Businesses that don't too th' line, whatever th' Line turns out to be. Th'

White House pop-offs are wavin' a Big Stick at Business and threatenin' to boycott violators of Administration orders, which ain't been promulgated yet. These orders may or may not be outlined before Christmas, th' odds are they will not be ready until after New Year.

The odd thang about these threats of Sanctions agin Businesses is there is no law which gives th' President or his Burrocrats any right to boycott anybody. It does appear that th' time has arrived when th' Politicians and th' Burrocrats are gonna have to have the slack jerked outta them in Court. Jist th' Other day a judge ruled that head of th' FTC could not be involved in television commercials under scrutiny by his department, since he had already expressed strong opinions about kiddies' sugary cereals. Now another outfit is takin' USDA's Carol Tucker Foreman to court for th' same reason: she has already expressed bias concernin' meat packagin', etc. Mebbe lawin' is th' answer to Burrocratic arrogance. Ever thine. The Editor.

P.S.: Unkle Dunk figgers that what some of th' consumer & health nuts really regard as safety fer you & me is some kind of padded cell where we cant cat, drink, drive or ride any thang that is likely to injure us as we enjoy our stupidity. It is a shame these folks tryin' to protect us with smart as they think they are, and this padded cell they got planned ain't gonna work. Folks are already fed up to here with those scare stories. Dunk notes that newspaper prices (th' kind of paper this publication uses) has risen since 1970 from $152 per ton to $345 per ton. But this ain't near as much as the Postal Rates have gone up. Dunk figgers now that th' Arabs & Israels are back on high center after th' Camp David euphoria, and th' trade tawks in Geneva are stuck in th' mud, it'll be a good idea for Carter & Co. to steer clear th' Iranian mess. It's bad enough now without any oil

Replacement Cattle Post Fifth Week Of Better Prices

St. Joseph, Dec. 1 (USDA) — National feeder cattle and calf receipts this week 227,000 compared with 135,200 the holiday shortened period last week and 258,000 a year ago. Prices for feeder cattle and calves shot sharply higher this week to mark the fifth consecutive week of price gains. Improved moisture conditions and relatively warm growing conditions over much of the wheat pasture country at least one major factor spurring demand and pushing prices.

Prices moved 1.00-5.00 higher with several locations reporting gains upwards of 10.00 on calves. The only exception to the higher trend this week cropped up the Wyoming area where yearling steers sold steady to 2.00 lower with yearling heifers steady to 3.00 off, instances 4.00 lower.

repellants. Live trappings and relocation "may" be included. Three pages later the report states that these same techniques "have not been effective for reducing eagle depredations to an acceptable level," which is obviously why they will be allowed. What, then, do they propose? More study. Oh, yes, they also presume to tell stockmen how their land should be used and their livestock managed. On page 10 of the report, the bureaucrats have the audacity to tell producers that they must "plan lambing dates to avoid eagle migrations!" Undoubtedly the most infuriating

She's an American Black Maine

That's what she is — an American Black Maine. A purebred, registered, and pedigreed Maine-Anjou cow. She's the result of years of crossing Maine-Anjou cattle with established U.S. beef breeds for the industry to finally dictate a cross that would work. It had to be black and it had to be an animal that was useful — not just a passing fancy.

The American Black Maine-Anjou Association was designed by cattlemen for cattlemen. Fullbloods are designated as three-quarter Maine-Anjou and one-quarter Angus. And things like branding identification and multiple sire grouping are just two of the many programs which are geared to a down-to-earth cowman's way of thinking and breeding superior beef cattle. The fullblood heifer you see here is backed by $100,000 in prepaid registration fees, which has been earmarked for the Association's first year advertising and operating expenses. The Association is just as solid as she is.

If you're serious about breeding superior beef cattle that are black, contact the American Black Maine-Anjou Association today for more information.

WEEKLY LIVESTOCK REPORTER

December 7, 1978

thing about the "plan" is its obviously antagonistic attitude toward producers. On page five the planners state that depredation control assistance "will be commensurate with the number of requests" for that assistance. In plain English, this means that no assistance, not even the next-to-nothing kind they propose to give, will be offered without a whole of a demand for it.

The first item under "law enforcement", however, requires Animal Damage Control personnel to notify law enforcers "of all requests for assistance." In other words, the only way a producer can get any help at all is to hound ADC about his problem, thereby setting himself up to be watched like a hawk (pardon by the law enforcement people).

Considering the type of assistance he can expect to receive, the producer will still have the same problem after he receives it. If he then becomes frustrated enough to break down and help himself, the law enforcers will be forewarned and waiting to cart him away.

In the end there are likely to be precious few requests for assistance/surveillance and the interior boys can chirp, "See, there've been no requests so there must be no problem." Last anyone entertain the notion that this surveillance idea is more paranoia than probability, a paragraph from page 13 of the report should clear up any doubts. Says the report, "Undercover efforts to detect illegal eagle shooting and/or poisoning would be undertaken in suspected problem areas."

Simply stated, the Golden Eagle Management Plan is a spiteful slap in the face to livestock producers and definitive proof that federal Interior brass doesn't give a flying squat about the losses their predatory birds inflict on someone else's property and livelihood.

TS&GRA's Sims says of the report, "It's amazing how little a group of well-educated grown men can do if they put their narrow minds to it."

BRANGUS

The Bull You Need.

To make it in today's cattle business, you need a bull that will increase profits — You need a Brangus!

A Brangus bull costs little to maintain and at the same time sires calves that bring top dollar at the market. Because of his 3/8 Brahman—5/8 Angus heritage, a registered Brangus bull is hardy and adaptable to climatic extremes. He does well on the range and is disease and pest resistant.

A Brangus bull is a virile and aggressive breeder and settles cows quickly. Cows bred to a Brangus bull experience few calving problems. Brangus calves gain quickly on feed or forage, averaging 75 to 100 pounds heavier at weaning than English breeds.

But most of all, calves from a Brangus bull are consistently profitable. They lay down internal fat early, and finish early with enough marbling to grade choice. Brangus calves are preferred—by stockers, feeders, packers, and consumers. If you want PROFIT, you need BRANGUS!

TEXAS HEREFORD NEWS

Commercial Heifers, Hereford Bull Sale Scheduled Jan. 28

The 10th annual Texas Hereford Association-sponsored commercial female sale, scheduled in conjunction with the 83rd Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show Jan. 24 through Feb. 4, will be joined this year by a Texas Select Bull Sale.

Commercial females will begin selling at 1 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 28, in Sale Barn 6 on the Stock Show grounds. Bulls will follow the females in the auction ring.

Jack Chastain, executive secretary of the THA, said the females will be judged in pens of 20 head at 8 a.m. on sale day for prizes totaling $5,000. He said bulls will not be judged, but will represent blue ribbon winners in many Southwestern shows.

Consignments in the bull sale include 24 head from 18 breeders in Texas and include many sons of Register of Merit and Super Register of Merit sires. Some of the most prestigious sire names in the Hereford breed appear in the bull pedigrees.

Approximately 600 head of high quality, commercial females will be in the show and sale. Offerings come from some of the most well-known and highly respected commercial breeding establishments in the state.

"This sale is unique in that it offers buyers an opportunity to purchase heifers that are available only because they are set aside for this Stock Show sale event," said W. R. Wait Jr., Stock Show president-manager. "We are pleased at the growing interest by breeders in this portion of our show."

"Extremely high standards were set by the sale selection committee in choosing bulls nominated for the sale," Chastain said. "Any breeder interested in a top Hereford bull should be able to find exceptional quality in the sale to add breed character and doing ability to his breeding program."

Since the commercial female sale was initiated at the Stock Show in

1970, some 5,863 heifers have been sold for more than $2 million.

"This particular female sale offers buyers an opportunity to see outstanding breeder results and the chance to select from a set of females that it would take many days and untold miles to inspect individually," Chastain continued. Females offered are purebred, but not registered heifers. Some will be open and ready to breed, others will sell bred not only to registered Hereford bulls but to bulls of other breeds.

"The females are definitely replacement type heifers that will fit into any breeding program or they can be used to start a commercial herd of exceptional quality with years of proven performance behind them," Chastain added. Heifer consignors will include such names as Burnett, Katata, well.

Sumner Ranch, Swenson Land & Cattle Co., Bryant Edwards, Watt Matthews, Coldwater Cattle Co., W. K. Gordon Jr., Hunter Carter, Paul Dauer and John E. Bird. Show is scheduled Jan. 28.

The commercial females will be stalled in Sale Barn 6, and the sale bulls will be stalled in Show Cattle Barn 3 with the Charles Neblett Jr. ROM Show cattle. The ROM Show is scheduled Jan. 28.

FOR MANY YEARS
Perma-cups are molded urethane,
more wear resistant than nylon.
Perma-cups will outlast leathers 10

1/8" wear, instead of 5/8" of a leather. Much less friction for easier pumping extends cylinder life greatly.
Perma-cups must be used in a good
or new cylinder, as they do not swell.
Install Urethane Perma-cups, Ure-

Pump Rod-guides, and don't pull that well for many years. Thousands are in wells that have not been tele-
